

Counselling/Psychotherapy Contract

Few of us can work well when we are stressed or unhappy. Receiving emotional support from a qualified professional, can facilitate greater opportunities to fulfil your potential. Coming to, or accessing, counselling/psychotherapy does not mean anyone has failed. We all experience occasions when it feels hard to speak to those closest to us about things that are bothering us. Often this can be because we do not want to worry those we love best, or because we want help thinking things through with someone unbiased. It is my role to help you find your way through whatever is troubling you. I am trained to listen without judgement and to help you explore and sort through your thoughts and feelings about whatever is concerning you, at a pace with which you are most comfortable.

Confidentiality Policy: An essential feature of counselling/psychotherapy is that the information disclosed is treated confidentially. This enables you to open up and share feelings without fear of blame or reprisals. It is also a time when it is acceptable to talk about concerns without fear of them being discussed elsewhere.

Although the contents of the sessions will be confidential, I retain the right to breach confidentiality in some specific circumstances:

- For the purpose of my clinical supervision, which is a monthly meeting, to ensure I am working in a safe, effective, and ethical manner - the client's identity will be not disclosed.
- Circumstances where I feel I have sufficient grounds to believe there is a risk of serious hurt/harm to self or others.
- When child protection issues arise.

Any paperwork is kept to a minimum and maintained in an appropriate manner that ensures the preservation of confidentiality.

Cancellation Policy: If a session is missed, without 48 hours' notice, and cannot be rescheduled within the same week, payment in full will be expected.

General Information for clients: Each session is 50 - 60 minutes long, therefore, it is important you are on time – please do not arrive early as I may be with a client.

- Fees are to be paid at the beginning of each session or can be electronically paid before the scheduled appointment.
- Violence to self, others or the property will not be tolerated under any circumstances.
- No alcohol and/or drugs other than prescribed medication.

Complaints: I work within the Ethical Framework of the British Association for Counselling and Psychotherapy (BACP). If there is any cause for complaint, you are welcome to raise this with myself initially, and, if the matter is not resolved to your satisfaction, then the BACP's contact details can be found on their website.

EATING DISORDERS EXTENDED CONTRACT

We have agreed to proceed with an extended assessment period lasting 6 weeks/6 sessions. During this extended assessment we will work together so long as certain criteria continues to be satisfied.

These would include:

- not being in any acute medical risk (as defined by your GP)
- attending all sessions
- having little or no deterioration in your BMI
- being able to demonstrate basic self-care, such as, at least to some extent, follow a prescribed and basic eating plan on your own.

I understand that I am expected to attend all of my weekly therapy appointments, and that a pattern of failed or cancelled appointments may result in therapy being suspended or terminated.

Signed and dated: _____ (Client)

I agree to attend my G.P weekly or as and when required to have my BMI measured and bloods monitored and can provide a letter to confirm this.

Signed and dated: _____ (Client)

I understand that if my weight continues to fall, therapy will not be able to continue, and we will have to suspend sessions until I am medically stable and can regain/maintain my BMI.

Signed and dated: _____ (Client)

I understand that if my weight and BMI continues to fall, my therapist will refer me back to my G.P.
